

Dr. Lai WEI is a hepatologist with thirty-two years' experience in hepatology clinical practice and research. Dr. WEI is currently the Director and Professor of Peking University Hepatology Institute at Peking University People's Hospital in Beijing, China. He is the leading-PI of Major Project for Infectious Diseases Control during the 10th and 11th Five-Year Plan Period and Key Clinical Research Program of Ministry of Health. He conducted 1200 hepatitis C patients cohort. Dr. WEI is member for a few of hepatitis C guidelines including KDIGO, APASL, China. He is the author of more than 50 peer-reviewed scientific publications.